Weaving refugee advocacy into literature

Charles Sturt University is proud to host a free public lecture by the Bathurst Refugee Support Group. Hear from Mij Tanith, who has over four decades experience as a playwright and refugee advocate.

Mij has written plays, short stories, poetry and articles for a number of magazines and on-line publications, and her talk will focus on the power of networking and advocacy, and how her real-life work with refugees shaped her latest book, 'Laila's Story'.

When: Wednesday 21 October 2026

Time: 6.00pm for a 6.30pm start

Where: Building 1292, Room 205

Charles Sturt University

Panorama Avenue, Bathurst

Light refreshments will be served afterwards
